963 REGISTER HERE FOR GAS RATION BOOKS

609 Local Drivers Request Applications for Additional Supply

A total of 963 persons registered here for "A" ration books during the three-day registration period last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Prin. R. E. Clabaugh, who was in charge of the local rationing area, announced.

Every one who owns a car is entitled to an "A" ration book, and for that reason many officials, including congressmen have criticized the issuing of A books at all, as all drivers are entitled to the minimum allowance and the rationing starts with the holders of B books. They point out that the printing of A books was a needless procedure and constituted a waste.

Persons filing supplemental forms may save rubber and gasoline by mailing their applications direct to the War Price and Local Rationing board at Libertyville. It is not necessary to send car registration card for the supplemental book.

Rescue Squad Dance A Pronounced Success

Pronounced a double-barreled success, being both financially remunerative and socially enjoyable, the dance sponsored by the Antioch Rescue Squad at Danish hall Friday night was attended by a throng that meant standing room only during the greater part of the evening.

Fine music and tasty refreshments added to the enjoyment of the evening, and all departments did a thriving business.

Among the prizes was a $25 war bond, which was won by C. K. Anderson. Anderson immediately turned the bond back to the Rescue Squad. Other very substantial donations helped to swell the fund.

Members of the Squad expressed themselves as being well pleased at the response of the public and expressed their gratitude to all who assisted in making the occasion a success.

Members of the Squad serve without pay, and the fund raised Friday night will be used to purchase new equipment to be used principally in civilian defense.

Firemen's Dance Wednesday. Meanwhile Antioch Firemen this week were making final preparations for the holding of their dance on Wednesday night, also at Danish hall.

Committee chairman, Captain Cleve Vos and his assistants, Merle Cunningham and Ed Frazier, reported early this week that all was in readiness for the event, and they hope to entertain a crowd that will rival attendance at the Rescue squad dance.

Funds raised will be used to procure better equipment and provide for incidental expenses that always accrue when a service organization is striving to maintain highest efficiency.

Supervisor Naber Is a Hospital Patient

B. F. Naber, veteran supervisor of Antioch township, today is reported to be convalescing at St. Theresa hospital, where he was taken Friday when he was stricken with pneumonia. Due to his weakened condition it will be several days before he can be removed to his home here, relatives said.

City Briefs

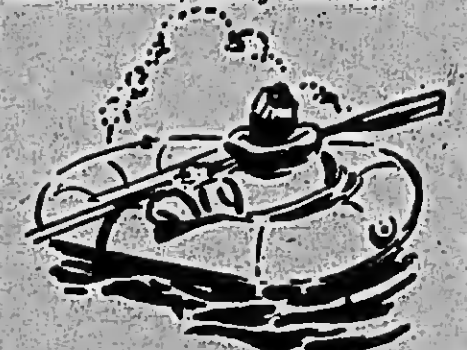

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hunter and daughters, June, Jane, and Mabel Lou will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Buck at their home in Cicero, Ill., for Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schwartz of Maysboro and Mrs. R. K. Lee of St. Louis, Mo., spent the past several days with the S. B. Nelson family. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and son, Wendell, accompanied them to Gorham, Ill., Wednesday, where they will spend Thanksgiving with their father, L. Schwartz.

Mr. L. R. Van Patten has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Belle Kellogg, and family at their home in Los Angeles, Cal., for the past three weeks. Mrs. Van Patten expects to return home about the first of December.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Actual experience on the world's war fronts has proved the collapsible boat an essential safety feature for both Naval and land based planes. They are made of rubberized material, easily inflated.

At the Battle of Midway an Army Lieutenant, after bombing a carrier, was forced to bail out of his bomber. He was able to get a "fish eye" view of the entire battle from his collapsible boat and was later picked up by an American plane. Your purchase of War Bonds with at least ten percent of your income every payday will help protect the lives of men who are flying for you. Get behind them today. U. S. Treasury Department

Lion Club Fetes Grid Champions

Players Awarded Letters; Jim McMillen Is Dinner Speaker

Antioch Township High school's undefeated Northwest Conference football champions were feted at a dinner Monday evening by the Antioch Lions club. The affair held in the high school cafeteria was attended by 110 persons who came to honor the team that swept all opposition aside in the 1942 race.

Pinch hitting for State's Attorney Harry A. Hall, former Illinois University quarterback, who was unable to be present, Lieut. James McMillen, U. S. N., assumed the role of principal speaker and made a splendid extemporaneous talk. Jim, former all-American tackle, now athletic director for the navy at Navy Pier, Chicago, knows the value of athletics, both in body and character building, and is qualified to offer valuable advice to young men regarding physical fitness for athletics and for useful careers in mature years. The Lieutenant said his only claim to fame was that he has been defeated by every mat champ during the last 20 years and had run for county treasurer on the Democratic ticket in Lake county where the Democrats had elected only one official in the past 85 years.

Other speakers were Lion President George Wagner who introduced Russ Boehm, district deputy governor of Lions International, as master of ceremonies; Mayor George B. Bartlett of Antioch; A. Maplethorpe, president of the board of education; Dr. William Gay, chairman for the Lions banquet committee, and Principal T. R. Birkhead of the Antioch High school.

Coach C. A. Wolfmeyer who led his team to two conference championships, praised the members of his team for their fighting spirit and sportsmanship, and gave full credit to his assistant, Coach A. Kroll for his part in the successful gridiron season.

Major letters were awarded to the following players by Coach Wolfmeyer: Dale Barnstable, Earl Brixen, co-captain, Walter Calhoun, Bill Chase, Clarence Dressel, Bill Effinger, captain, Robert Ellis, Jack Field, Dick Kafmann, Sammy Klass, Kenneth Krueger, Bud Maplethorpe, Todd Maplethorpe, Joe Nader, Louis Nielsen, Teddy Smith, Max Wurzbach, Lawrence Yopp. Manager letter awards went to Wesley Reeves, Ray Scott and Milton Smith. Minor awards went to Don Bauer, Robert Bennett, Bruno Chrapkowski, LeRoy Ellis, Don Gaa, Stuart Good, Robert Hughes, Bill Setek, Dick Sieben, Harry Smith, Richard Stasiny, Joe Stenbenz, Ralph Trieger, Myles Van Duzer.

Dale Barnstable was awarded the sportsmanship trophy, and Dr. William Gay in an inspiring talk presented the championship trophy to the team. Captain Bill Effinger responded.

Cheer Leaders Honored The team of six girl cheer leaders, who also had a part in the 1942 victory were commended by Coach Wolfmeyer and were awarded letters. They are: Louise Elms, Mabel Lou Hunter, Carol Waters, Dottie Wilton, Clara Sieben and Shirley Harness.

Dedicate Honor Roll Here Sunday; 123 Names Listed

Large Crowd Attends Unveiling of Service Men's Names

A brief but impressive ceremony at the village park here Sunday afternoon at two o'clock marked the dedication of Antioch township's Roll of Honor of men now serving in the armed forces of the United States.

Regardless of the cold a large crowd witnessed the unveiling of the 123 names painted on the huge scroll which is emblazoned with a golden eagle and bears the emblems of the American Legion and the Antioch Lions club, co-sponsors of the Honor Roll.

Commander A. C. Fuller of the Tenth District American Legion, gave the main address. He was introduced by Adjutant John Horan of the Antioch Legion post, who had been presented as master of ceremonies by the local commander, L. C. Heath.

Included among the speakers were George Wagner, president of the Antioch Lions club, Mayor George B. Bartlett, the Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the First Methodist church of Antioch, Roman B. Vos, past commander of the Legion and now chief air raid warden for Antioch township, and Douglas Getchell, of the Selective Service board. The Rev. F. M. Flaherty said the opening prayer and the Rev. J. E. Charles pronounced the benediction.

Legionnaires and many of their friends adjourned to Legion Hall where open house was the order for the remainder of the day.

The Antioch High school band and the Junior Legion Drum and Bugle corps were heard in patriotic numbers, while the band led the singing.

ANTIOCH COUPLE WED 50 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Drom Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Amid a profusion of flowers and gifts, and surrounded by relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Drom celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday at their home on North Main street.

Among the floral pieces was a gorgeous basket from the Antioch village board, of which Mr. Drom was a member for many years; also a beautiful remembrance from the Willing Workers, a woman's organization of Trevor, founded 85 years ago and of which Mrs. Drom has long been a member. Another unique bouquet admired by the honored couple and guests alike was a bitersweet shrub liberally adorned with neatly rolled dollar bills presented by North Main street neighbors as a token of their esteem.

Cakes, too, were there in abundance, including the large wedding cake, and guests were served with cake and coffee during open house hours from 1 to 5 o'clock. About 20 relatives were served dinner at the noon hour. Out of town guests were Mrs. Harold Hynd and Mrs. Leonard Havland of Onarga, Ill., and Mrs. Anna Hewson of Shawville, Ill., cousins of Mr. Drom; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webb of Gurnee, the latter a sister of Mrs. Drom.

The Droms are the parents of eight children: Mrs. Clare Horton, Mrs. Mary Ellis, Miss Edna, and Nelson Drom, of Antioch; A. T. Drom, New Lisbon, Wis.; Jacob, Jr., Wisconsin Dells; Beulah of Madison, and Mrs. Helen Prohl, South Milwaukee.

Confined to bed since he suffered a fractured pelvic bone in a fall on Oct. 21, Mr. Drom nevertheless enjoyed his 76th birthday anniversary on Oct. 25 as well as his golden wedding anniversary Tuesday. He hopes to be up in a few more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Drom have been residents of Antioch for 65 years. He was born in Iroquois county in 1866. Mrs. Drom was the former Mary Pullen and the wedding ceremony of half a century ago took place at Fort Hill, near Hainesville.

Miss Lucille Rhymmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhymmer of Loon Lake, will take part in a piano recital, to be given Friday evening before the Woman's club of Kenosha at 6028 8th avenue. Miss Rhymmer is one of twelve advanced students of Miss Anna Wade who is presenting twenty-seven students in the recital.

Major General H. S. Aurand, commanding the Sixth Service Command, with headquarters in Chicago, today requested the governors of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan to bring the below quoted statement of Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board to the attention of management and labor of all war facilities in their respective states:

"No holiday has deeper roots in the American tradition than Thanksgiving Day. Year after year, it has been our custom to cease work on that day and thank God for the blessings He has given us."

"We have been brought through many trials and the perils during the past year; more than ever before, we can make this Thanksgiving Day a day of devout and humble thanks to God. But we can best show our gratitude by demonstrating that we deserve the mercies that have been shown us, and the way to do that is to work with all our might at the job which is before us."

"Therefore, in every factory which is producing war goods or goods essential to our war economy, and in every mine or plant where war-essential raw materials are being produced, we must have a full day's production on this Thanksgiving Day."

"Our enemies are not going to stop their production on November 26; we dare not do so either. Men and women of management and labor alike can easily rearrange their personal schedules so that the traditional Thanksgiving dinner can be enjoyed after work has been finished. And the deepest religious devotion we have will find its truest expression in an unflinching attention to duty by all of us."

According to General Aurand, all Army installations under his Command will maintain a normal day schedule for both military personnel and civilian employees on Thanksgiving.

NAVY OFFICER TO SPEAK AT DEFENSE MEETING DEC. 2

A naval officer from Great Lakes Naval Training station will be one of the principal speakers at the civilian defense meeting to be held at the Antioch Township High school auditorium on December 2, at 8 p. m. Chief Air Raid Warden Roman B. Vos announced today.

Another speaker will be Attorney Seymour A. Greenblatt, of Waukegan, of the Lake County Civilian Defense Speakers bureau. Attorney Greenblatt will talk on general defense topics. County Co-ordinator Paul King will also attend the meeting.

The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Christoffersen Dies at Age of 83, Just 41 Years After Husband

Mrs. Bert Edwards of Hickory has received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Fornosa Christoffersen, who passed away Monday morning in Elmhurst, after a long illness. Mrs. Christoffersen was aged 83, and her husband preceded her in death just 41 years to the day, both dying at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Share-the-Meat Program to Be Explained

The necessity of sharing meat for victory will be discussed and methods of getting this information to every homemaker in the county will be explained at a meeting to be held on Monday afternoon, Nov. 30, at 2 p. m. at the Libertyville Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee avenue.

Every woman's organization is urged to send a representative to this meeting to get the information to bring back to her local group.

The "Share-the-Meat Campaign" will be explained by Mrs. Helen Volk, Lake County Home Adviser and Nutrition Committee chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. J. N. Stewart, chairman of Women's Division of Civilian Defense.

Antioch Ag. Students Win 50 Ribbons at Wauconda Exhibition

Sixteen Vocational Agriculture students of the Antioch High school exhibited poultry, corn, and grain at the Sectional Future Farmer Fair held at Wauconda last Saturday, and returned with 26 blue, 19 red, and 4 white ribbons. The exhibits this year were of especially good quality.

Gordon Severson showing Barred Rock poultry made a clean sweep when he received five blue ribbons in that class. Joe Carney did the same thing in the White Rock classes and in addition received a blue ribbon in the capon class and a red ribbon on brown eggs. George Stenbenz received two blue and a red ribbon in the White Rock classes, while Richard Wells received one blue and 3 reds. William Messager received 2 red and 1 white ribbon.

Milton Smith, showing White Leghorns, won a blue and three red ribbons; Dean Weber won two blues; while Arnold Bolton received three blue and one red on Leghorns and 4 white eggs.

Ted Carlson won one blue and 4 red ribbons on Rhode Island Red chickens and brown eggs.

Ed Jones showed a dozen of blue ribbon brown eggs.

The large exhibit was trucked to Wauconda by Milton Smith using a truck belonging to George White.

C. L. Kutil, Vocational Agriculture instructor, William Messager and Robert Kufak accompanied the exhibits to Wauconda.

The show is an annual affair sponsored by and for the vocational schools in northeastern Illinois.

Hunt Mystery Woman in Baby Kidnapping

Waukegan Baby Is Taken Yesterday as Mother Shops

Waukegan police and Lake county sheriff's deputies aided by 100 auxiliary police of civilian defense organizations today are seeking an unidentified woman who is believed to have been connected with the kidnaping of a 3½ months old baby boy who was taken from his buggy in downtown Waukegan yesterday afternoon while his mother was in a store shopping.

The baby, Gary Botsford, is the son of Stewart Botsford, 28, and his wife, Janette, 21, who live at 523 Ash street, Waukegan. Botsford is a commercial artist employed by the National Office Supply company of Waukegan.

A clue, given to police several hours after the kidnaping, was provided by Herbert Eatisger, a locomotive engineer, and his wife, Irma, of North Sheridan road. About 4 p. m., they said, a woman appeared in front of their home carrying a baby, and said she was trying to get a taxicab to take her to Victory Memorial hospital. Eatisger volunteered to take her there, and on the way the woman hinted that she wanted to be taken to her brother's home in Winthrop Harbor. Eatisger, however, left her at the entrance of the hospital but officials there said no woman or baby were admitted at that time.

Today police learned that Oscar Straghan, a cab driver, had taken a woman and child from the vicinity of the hospital to the Zion Home, at Zion, Ill. There the trail ended. There were no further developments in the search up to noon today, according to a report from the Lake county sheriff's office.

Broadcast Baby's Formula

The distressed young mother today asked newspapers and radio stations to broadcast the baby's food formula in the hope that the kidnapper would use it and take good care of him. The formula is 26 ounces of milk, 14 ounces of boiled water, two tablespoonsful of corn syrup. This is divided into four feedings to be given at 6 and 10 a. m. and 2 and 6 p. m.

When he was kidnapped the baby was wearing a blue corduroy bonnet, a pink sweater, blue flannel baby bunting fastened with zipper and blue ribbon.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPT. PREPARES FOR WINTER

The Illinois State Highway Division has about one thousand snow plows, graders, tractors and trucks ready for use in clearing all main roads when snowstorms come. The division also has some five hundred carloads of sand and cinders to be sprayed on icy hills and curves. Three hundred miles of snow fence has been set up at places where Illinois highways are most exposed to drifting snows.

When winter really comes the division will resume its daily bulletins on road conditions, maintaining day and night service at the 1,100 highway district offices throughout the state. Reports as full as wartime censorship permits will be issued several times daily.

Gov. Dwight Green Proclaims Dec. 7 as 'Day of Remembrance'

Governor Dwight H. Green has proclaimed Monday, Dec. 7, as Pearl Harbor Day, "not as a holiday, but as a time of remembrance."

"December 7 marks the close of the first year of our all-out war for American ideals, American security, American liberty," the Governor said in his proclamation. "Let us, this day, remembering the American boys who already have made the supreme sacrifice, freshen our sense of duty and pledge ourselves anew to redouble our efforts in the great tasks that lie ahead."

The State Council of Defense will meet in Chicago December 7, and in a radio broadcast will review the part Illinois has taken in the first year of war. The Governor, as chairman of the Council of Defense, asked local councils of defense and Illinois citizens throughout the state to observe the day appropriately.

Policy Needed—Not Czar

Sharply criticizing the activity, or rather the inactivity, of the War Manpower Commission which failed, after seven months, to establish a basic policy or program for meeting its increasing problems, the special Senate (Truman) investigating committee made some proposals of its own.

For one thing, the committee recommended lengthening the basic work week to at least forty-eight hours as against the present national average of forty-two and a half. Overtime wages in war industry, where the government buys the products, the committee proposed should be paid in war bonds, cashable only after the war or usable during hostilities for payment of Federal taxes.

The committee report also suggested that the forty-hour week in non-war industry be suspended as "a possible answer" to the several labor shortage there.

However, although a policy is badly needed, according to the committee, compulsory legislation or a single manpower czar is not.

"The manpower problem" is too difficult and complex to be solved by any government agency to determine by coercion where each employee shall work.

"The administrative machinery would be too cumbersome and there would be too much room for favoritism and even graft by the thousands of local agents who would be exercising the power to determine whether and where John Jones and Bill Smith are to work."

"Acres of Diamonds"

Sharp dissension is developing in Congress over the administration's proposal to import labor. One group contends that because of the manpower shortage it is necessary to import a minimum of 100,000 workers.

The other group declares that our existing manpower resources are not being fully and efficiently utilized and that no foreign workers should be brought into this country until we have exhausted all of the domestic labor reserve. Furthermore, they contend that the proper allocation of manpower will eliminate any necessity for importing workers.

The War Manpower Commission cooperating with the State Department has discussed with four governments, plans for importing workers. The discussions involved the importation of up to 50,000 Mexicans, 10,000 laborers from Cuba, as many workers as available from Puerto Rico, and 50,000 negro laborers from the Bahama Islands.

Before this action is taken would it not be advisable to step up our work week from 40 to 48 hours a week and eliminate strikes, absenteeism, and some of the other time-wasters? Maybe we are searching all over the landscape for something we already have in our own back yard.

To Meet Doubled Ship Quota

A military event like the invasion of Africa brings home to us all, more poignantly than ever, the importance of shipping in the crucial battles of this war.

It is more than gratifying, therefore, to learn from Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the U. S. Maritime Commission and head of the War Shipping Administration, that the construction goal of 24,000,000 deadweight tons of merchant ships in 1942 and 1943 is being met.

Only a year ago our plans called for a total of but 12,000,000 tons; then the program was stepped up to 18,000,000 tons. Completion on schedule thus far of the 24,000,000 goal (6 million of the 8 million called for this year already delivered) is a tribute to an industry that has geared itself to meet the requirements of our fighting forces.

Clear the wires for Uncle Sam!

LONG DISTANCE lines are busy these days as never before, especially those going to other states. Calls directing troop movements... speeding the work of war plants. Uncle Sam's calls!

In peacetime, we could install new telephone facilities to keep pace with increasing needs. But now, copper and rubber and other scarce materials must go into ships and planes and guns.

YOU can help clear the way for telephone calls assisting the war effort. Please think twice before you make any Long Distance call these days to Washington, D. C., or other centers of war activity. If you must call, please be brief.

Your help in clearing Long Distance wires will be a real service to your country.

If it isn't a Victory call—better not make it!

A SALUTE

To acknowledge the splendid spirit of cooperation being manifested by our patrons, shippers and travelers, at a time when the war effort has first call on our facilities.

Thanks to that cooperation and some pre-war railroad planning, our facilities are quite ample to meet the requirements of Uncle Sam and still offer Johnny Q. Public a normal service with only slight inconveniences.

War-time travel suggestions include—early reservations—avoidance of week-end travel as far as possible—sharing seats when necessary—travel light.

Pacific Sea Victories Prove U. S. Naval Strength Is Growing as Japs' Declines; Russ Smash Nazi Threat to Caucasus; MacArthur Encircles Japs in New Guinea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The North African coast was the end of the first lap of their journey to Berlin for thousands of U. S. soldiers who participated in the successful invasion of French North Africa. The above photograph, one of the first pictures passed by the war department, shows a detachment of U. S. troops landing at a picturesque Algerian Mediterranean village west of Oran.

SOLOMONS:

Smashing U. S. Victory

Americans had scarcely received the news of the brilliant naval victory in the Solomons which gave the Japs back reeling with 100 ships sunk and 30,000 sailors and soldiers drowned, when additional reports were forthcoming on the sinking of five enemy warships. The second action was the concluding part of a great three-day engagement which routed the Jap fleet from the Guadalcanal area.

Shrewd and resourceful Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, commander of the American forces, emerged from the battle as one of the outstanding heroes of the war, for it was his audacity and pluck in the face of superior Japanese forces that won a smashing three-day victory.

Jap ship losses in the slugging encounter included one battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, five destroyers and eight troop-laden transports sunk; four cargo transports destroyed on the beach near Guadalcanal, and one battleship and six destroyers damaged. Enemy losses in the second engagement were one battleship, three large cruisers and one destroyer sunk.

Naval officials said there was "good reason to believe" that the sinkings reported in second engagement were in addition to those previously recorded.

American losses were two light cruisers and six destroyers sunk. The major part of the sea action was fought directly off Guadalcanal island, which the Japs approached with three strong fleet task forces intent on effecting a landing that would dislodge the heroic American defenders. One of the decisive elements in the battle was the daring of American surface units in storming directly between the lines of the Jap columns, firing broadsides in both directions. In this phase Rear Adm. Daniel J. Callaghan, former naval aide of President Roosevelt, was killed in action.

While the navy rejoiced in its triumph, it accorded full credit to General MacArthur's aircraft which had originally spotted the Jap concentrations and made repeated bombing attacks on the enemy shipping.

NEW GUINEA:

Jap Dunkirk?

Steadily the jaws of the Australian-American trap had closed on the strategic Jap-held port of Buna in New Guinea.

Significant of the importance of the New Guinea drive to dislodge the Japs was the presence in the field of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. While his land forces converged on the enemy positions, MacArthur's bombers had fanned out for widespread aerial activities. On their calling list besides Buna were enemy installations at Lae and Salamaua.

The critical plight of the Jap garrison at Buna was emphasized by the arrival of eight enemy warships in the vicinity. In a grim game of hide-and-seek that ensued between American Flying Fortresses and the Jap vessels, one enemy cruiser and a destroyer were sunk and another destroyer damaged before the flotilla fled. Observers were of the opinion that the Jap warships might have been preparing to evacuate the Jap defenders of Buna.

18-19-YEAR DRAFT: High Schoolers Deferred

President Roosevelt set aside three weeks beginning December 11 for registration of youths who have reached or will reach their 18th birthdays since June 30. The President's order likewise provided continuous registration on their birthdays of youths who become 18 on or after next January 1.

ROOSEVELT:

War's 'Turning Point'

American victories in the Solomons and in North Africa might well be hailed as an apparent turning point in the war, President Roosevelt declared. But he warned the American people, there is time only for working and fighting, none for exaltation.

The President coupled his analysis of recent military events with a rebuke to critics of the government's war and international policies, who speak "either out of ignorance or out of political bias."

Declaring that he had made a constant effort to keep politics out of the fighting of the war, Mr. Roosevelt pleaded guilty, however, to having permitted pressure to disclose the sinking of an American aircraft carrier 10 days before the November elections. He said he had realized that "if the news of the sinking had been given out two or three weeks later, it would be publicly charged that this news had been suppressed by me until after the election." The result was that vigorous protests had come from commanding admirals in the Southwest Pacific and at Pearl Harbor that military information was being given to the Japs, because they probably had no sure knowledge of the sinking.

GAS RATION:

Curtailed in East

Demands for petroleum products by the American Expeditionary forces in North Africa far in excess of original estimates resulted in a curtailment of 25 per cent in the gasoline of motorists in the Eastern states. The OPA order did not affect the Middle West, where rationing had been scheduled for December 1.

Motorists traveling in the East from other states, however, would have to comply with the new rationing which gave three gallons of gasoline for "A" coupons, instead of four.

Officials said the East Coast curtailment would result in saving about 20,000 barrels of gasoline a day.

'FREE RUMANIA':

Fund Grab Foiled

How a plot to spirit exiled King Carol of Rumania into the United States from Mexico and establish a "Free Rumanian" movement in this country was foiled, was disclosed with the indictment in Detroit of three leaders in the cabal. At stake was nearly $80,000,000 in frozen Rumanian funds now in custody of the U. S. treasury.

EX-KING CAROL

manion funds now in custody of the U. S. treasury.

The indictments charged violation of the Foreign Agents Registration and Espionage Acts. The defendants were Glicerio Moraru, self-styled leader of the movement, Stefan Opreanu and George Zanfer.

SEA SAGA:

Boise Story Told

Triumphant survivor of a battle in which she helped sink six Jap warships off Guadalcanal in early October, the heroic light cruiser Boise was undergoing repairs at an eastern American shipyard, after being battered by gunfire, swept by flames and losing 107 of her crew in action.

That the Boise would be refitted in time to steam off to war again was emphasized by her commander, Capt. E. J. ("Mike") Moran, and navy officials. The Boise was lead ship of an American naval task force that engaged a Jap cruiser-transport force bearing troops for the Southeastern Solomons and bore the brunt of the fighting in which the enemy lost two heavy cruisers, one light cruiser and three destroyers.

Given up for lost in the battle, the undaunted Boise later joined its companion ships after receiving shell hits in vulnerable places. In the engagement, the Boise fired more than 1,000 rounds of six-inch shells in 27 minutes.

MISCELLANY:

WASHINGTON: In a move to speed shipments of important war materials through Mexico, the United States has agreed to finance rehabilitation of key lines of the Mexican National railways. It was announced here. The U. S. government has agreed to bear the cost of all necessary materials and equipment as well as repair costs and the expense of maintenance.

TREVOR

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dexter, Jr., son, Charles, were Kenosha shoppers Friday.

Fred Bauers, Zion, Ill., was a caller Sunday at the Daniel Longman home. On Friday William Barnstable, Antioch, called on the Longmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilson and daughter, Sandra Lee, motored to Delafield, Wis., Sunday where they spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kistenbroeker, Forest Park, were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baethke.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Selear accompanied their son, Andrew, who was home on a week's furlough from the Brooklyn Navy yard, New York, to Kenosha, where he boarded a train for Brooklyn.

Mrs. Leo Grill and friend, Miss K. Leigh of Philadelphia, Pa., who are visiting Mrs. Grill's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes in Chicago, spent Tuesday with the former's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Longman. In company with Mrs. Longman they called on Mr. and Mrs. Willis Sheen in the afternoon.

Sergt. Eldred Wilson, Sr., Diego, Calif., who is home with his parents at Delafield, Wis., on a fifteen day furlough, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with his brother, Lee Wilson and family. On Wednesday he accompanied his brother, Lee, on a business trip to Chicago. Grave concern was felt by relatives and friends a few months ago, when Sergt. Wilson was reported as missing in action somewhere in the Pacific. Later reports revealed that he had been wounded in action. Following his recovery, he was granted a furlough, and arrived home in time to be with the family a few days before the youngest son, Wayne, left for service.

Friends here have received word of the death of Jessie Newell Warren, Nelisville, Wis. Mrs. Warren was a former resident of this vicinity.

Andy Gump says—

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
(Released by Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for November 29

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:15-17; Acts 1:8; 2:42; 6:1-4; 11:27-30; 13:1-3; 1 John 1:3.
GOLDEN TEXT—As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.—John 20:21.

The church is the greatest institution in all the world, with the most widespread membership and influence. That is true from a purely secular or worldly standpoint. Then when we realize that there is more than a human organization, for it is in fact a divine organism; that it is the means through which God is now manifesting this power toward men, we see the supreme importance of understanding the church and our relationship to it. This week we stress the mission of the church. We note seven things:

I. Holiness of Life (Matt. 18:15-17). In a time when general standards of decency and honesty are low, and no one wants to be his brother's keeper, the church needs to be reminded that part of its mission is to maintain holiness in life and the relationship of one to another.

Notice that man's attitude toward his fellowman is first a matter for personal attention, then it becomes of real interest to the church, and if no response is found there, the offending individual is excluded and put in the hands of God. Be sure to observe that all this is done to "gain" or win him back, not for revenge or in bitterness.

II. Witness in Divine Power (Acts 1:8).

The witness bears testimony to that which he has experienced, and in the case of Christian experience he is assured of divine power in carrying out his sacred task.

The world would have laughed (and possibly did) at the idea of a small group of humble believers making the gospel effective simply by telling others about the Saviour—but it worked, because God's power was in it.

III. Unity in Faith and Practice (Acts 2:42).

The early church had not yet been split up by the philosophies of men and the vagaries of doctrine, which have since divided God's people. It was His purpose that His people should be one in Him, something we should recall before we divide them just to promote some theory of interpretation.

Unity is not only a matter of belief, it must reach into the practice of daily life. They were steadfast not only in doctrine, but in communion and prayer. A bit more unity there might bring us closer together in belief.

IV. Service, Spiritual and Social (Acts 6:1-4).

The church rightly put the emphasis on the spiritual. The leaders who had gifts for ministry of the Word did not permit themselves to be diverted into social service. Too many in the church have failed at that point. Even the good may be the mortal enemy of the best.

At the same time the early church did not neglect social needs. Men were appointed to care for them. In all too many instances the modern church has failed to minister to the social needs even of its own people and the wealthy (and one fears gladdly) turned them over to social agencies. What a pity!

V. Love—In Deed as Well as in Word (1 John 3:18).

Just as the Lord Jesus Christ, who came to this world, saying to us, "I have come to this world to save the world," so the church is to be a love agency, not only in word but in deed.

VI. Obedience to the Holy Spirit (Acts 5:28).

God has certain plans for the work of the church in the world, and he sure that they be no small or insignificant plans. His mighty power in language His will to pass in the world. The Holy Spirit is the church's life. If the church is to be obedient to His guidance and to His control, the work of God may go on unimpeded. But just there, Christian friends, the church has most indignantly failed.

The early church was directed of the Holy Spirit to set apart Paul and Barnabas for the work of missionaries and evangelists. Knowing as we do the marvelous results of their ministry, we shudder at the thought of what might have happened if the church had disobeyed the Holy Spirit that day!

VII. Fellowship (1 John 1:3). Here is the great secret of spiritual life and growth—Christian fellowship. And notice with care the place for it is in the church. If we do not come to the church we deprive ourselves and others of the opportunity for fellowship. The matter of church attendance (and twice on Sunday is not too much) needs to be put on our consciences lest we by our absence bear an onychurch testimony before our neighbors. But even more important is our own need of fellowship with God's people.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 22.

The Golden Text was, "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?"

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God" (Rev. 21:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality. To divest thought of false objects and material evidence—in order that the spiritual fact of being may appear, this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple of body, whose builder and maker is God" (p. 123).

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Contributed by the Baha'i Group
THANKFULNESS

Thankfulness is of various kinds. There is a verbal thanksgiving which is confined to a mere utterance of gratitude. This is of no importance because the tongue may give voice while the heart is unmoved. Many who offer thanks to God are of this type; their spirits and hearts are unconscious of thanksgiving. This is more usage, just as when we meet, receive a gift and say "Thank you," speaking the words without significance. One may say "Thank you" a thousand times while the heart remains thankful, ungrateful. Therefore more verbal thanksgiving is without effect. But real thankfulness is a cordial giving of thanks from the heart. When man in response to the favors of God manifests susceptibility of conscience, the heart is happy, the spirit is exhilarated. These spiritual susceptibilities are ideal thanksgiving.

There is a cordial thanksgiving too which expresses itself in the deeds and actions of man when his heart is filled with gratitude. For example, God has conferred upon man the gift of guidance and in thankfulness for this great gift certain deeds must emanate from him. To express his gratitude for the favors of God man must show forth praiseworthy actions. In response to these bestowals he must render good deeds, be self-sacrificing, loving the servants of God, forfeiting even life for them, showing kindness to all the creatures. Whatever he wishes to do must be in harmony with the good-pleasure of God. He must observe and see what is the will of God and act accordingly.

Consider how grateful any one becomes when healed from sickness, when treated kindly by another, even though it may be of the least consequence. If we forget such favors it is an evidence of ingratitude. Physically and spiritually we are submerged in the sea of God's favor. He has provided our foods, drink and other requirements; his favors encompass us from all directions. Sight, hearing and all man's faculties are wonderful gifts. These blessings are innumerable; no matter how many are mentioned they are still endless. Spiritual blessings are likewise endless; spirit, consciousness, thought, memory, perception, ideation, and other endowments. By these he has guided us and we enter his kingdom. He has opened the doors of all good before our faces. He has summoned us to the kingdom of heaven. He has enriched us by the bestowals of God. He has proclaimed new glad-tidings. Every hour fresh beauties descend.

In these times thanksgiving for the bounty of the Merciful One consists in the illumination of the heart and the awareness of the soul. This is the reality of thanksgiving.

—By 'Abdu'l-Baha.

O my Lord! Make Thy beauty to be my food, and Thy presence my drink, and Thy pleasure my hope, and praise of Thee my action, and remembrance of Thee my companion, and the power of Thy sovereignty my savior, and Thy habitation my home, and my dwelling place the seat of Thee, hast sanctified from the limitations imposed upon them who are shut out as by a veil from Thee. Thou art, verily, the Almighty, the All-Glorious, the Most Powerful.

THE PRICE WE PAY

In the social and economic world one may be able to escape payment of just obligations. In the economy of God this is impossible. Mankind must, rebel, question Divine wisdom, deny Divine love, renounce God, and indulge in innumerable absolutely senseless and futile things; but regardless of any or all of these, we keep right on paying. Often the price seems all out of bounds, but it will be found to be in direct proportion to the degree we have ignored or violated the Divine purpose. It will also be found to be cumulative. As the days, and months and years, and even centuries pass it increases somewhat as interest is compounded, until, ere we are aware, the accumulation far exceeds the original debt.

Today we are paying, primarily, for the misuse, or the lack of use of those powers and agencies God has provided for the uplift and perfection of man. We have refused to acknowledge the sovereignty of God, or to give our energies to the promotion of His purpose. We have persistently and relentlessly pursued those things which are contrary to His will and detrimental to the race. Ours is a debt of sin, and sin always comes high. It is a debt of individual sin, of social sin, of national sin, and of world-wide sin. In a most shameful and inhuman way we have sown to the wind, and now we must reap a whirlwind.

That we may do our part to help overcome this condition and to bring mankind to recognize God's way of life, the Methodist Church of Antioch invites you and your family and friends to worship with us next Sunday and every Sunday.

Warren C. Hensley, Minister.

VIDA HALEY

"Her sun is gone down while it was yet day." Bringing darkness and gloom to the friends here below. As they listen and long for the voice that for aye Shall sing but the songs that the Angels can know.

In the brightness of youth she has answered the call

Of the Father above, who has said, "Come to Me!"

While with hearts that are bleeding we say, one and all,

"Not our will, but Thine is forever to be."

But her life full of sunshine was not lived in vain;

For she ever will live in the hearts of her friends.

And when years swiftly pass we shall all meet again

In that bright home above, where our life's journey ends.

'Mid the fragrance of flowers the loved form we bore

Where we all shall find rest 'neath the soil and the dew.

But where joys never cease, on the beautiful shore,

She waits with glad welcome each one whom she knew.

Let us cherish the memories dear that will stay

To brighten the days that seem lonely and drear.

Our trust is in God, tho' rough be the way

And with His hand to guide we have nothing to fear.

Home Bureau Unit Over the Top in Membership

The Antioch Unit of Home Bureau is over the top in 100 percent paid up membership. This announcement was made by Mrs. Ruth Lutterman, vice chairman, at the November meeting held last Thursday, Nov. 19, at the home of Mrs. William Bennett.

The unit members were hostesses to the Hickory unit, and after separate business meetings, they joined together in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Mrs. Vida White sang "God Bless America," with Mrs. Ida Wells at the piano, and the entire group joined in the chorus.

Miss Young, our resident district nurse from Woodstock, gave a short talk, explaining her work and duties as county nurse.

Miss Pazourek, state health nutritionist, gave a very helpful talk on nutrition and nutritional foods, emphasizing their great need in our daily diet to help win this war, and the need of a more balanced meal packed in the lunch boxes. Mrs. Volk, county home adviser, gave the major lesson on "Poultry Cooking." A six-pound chicken was stuffed and roasted and served later with the refreshments.

Mrs. Bertha Winslow gave the minor lesson on "Handicraft," with Mrs. Heick and Miss Schmidt assisting. Many lovely and useful articles were displayed, appropriate as Christmas gifts. About thirty were present at this interesting lesson. Mrs. Maud Griffin and Mrs. Roy Crighton were co-hostesses with Mrs. Bennett.

Ida R. Wells, Publicity Chairman.

Ohio Couple Has Sent Nine Sons to Two World Wars

Five Are Now Serving in U. S. Army; Four Served in First Conflict.

BELLAIRE, OHIO.—A 70-year-old couple recently watched their nine sons to serve in the United States army leave for duty.

Then James F. Clark went back to do his farm chores alone and Mrs. Clark hung another service star in the window.

Lifelong residents of nearby Stewartsville, the couple sent four sons to fight in World War I. The four came back safely, five more were called to serve in this war. The Clarks have 13 children.

Mrs. Clark could not find a service flag big enough so she bought one with three stars and pasted on two silver stars for two of her sons who are overseas.

Served in First War.

Elmer, the oldest son, who would have been 60 this year, served 15 months overseas in the first conflict. He was killed in a Willow Grove mine explosion several years ago and is survived also by his widow.

Harry, 47, was overseas for part of his 18 months in World War I. He is employed at the Willow Grove mine, as are all the others not in the service, and is married, with four children.

Howard, 45, was in an army camp when the Armistice was signed. He is married and has one child.

Albert, 44, was not called for World War I. Married, with four children, he was killed at work in the Powhatan mine.

Ross, 42, was at Camp Dix, N. J., in the first conflict. He is married and has three children.

William, 40, and unmarried, was the ninth son to enter the armed forces.

Lester, 38, is married and has three children. He has not been called.

Two Leave Together.

Clarence, 36, and Herbert, 31, left together a month ago and both are stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Clarence was a miner and Herbert worked on the family farm for his father. Both are single.

Cale, 33, entered the army in March and is now in Alaska, where he became a corporal. He was named after Dr. C. H. Cale of Neffs, who delivered seven of the Clark children.

Raymond, 23, the "baby" of the family, has been in the army the longest. He will celebrate his 24th birthday November 21 and his "second anniversary" in the army November 25.

Stationed in Ireland, he has become a sergeant. He is married and worked on the farm before enlisting.

The other two of the 13 children are Helen, 29, now Mrs. John Kozak, who has two children, and Louella, 26, the only one still at home.

The Clark grandchildren total 17 and there is one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have been married 51 years and have lived on their farm 48. She is the former Martha Jane Keys.

Nazis Fine Brussels

Second 5,000,000 Francs

LONDON.—The Free Belgian news agency reported that the Germans had fined Brussels another 5,000,000 francs for eight "armed attempts" in ten days.

One, it said, was a dynamite explosion which damaged premises of the "Black Brigade," militarized formation of the Flemish Nazi movement.

Meanwhile, a German-language Brussels paper reaching Stockholm disclosed that Brussels university would be closed because of "the hostile attitude of Belgian professors."

Man Returns Lost $2,000

For the Finest Necktie

ALBANY, N. Y.—"The finest necktie you ever saw," is to be the reward of Eros Mayakis, operator of a gasoline station near here, for discovering a pocketbook containing $2,000 in cash and returning it.

Mayakis identified the owner, a woman who left it in a restroom while en route to New York city, through personal papers, and returned the pocketbook and contents by registered mail. Delighted, she promised him the necktie.

Grow Crops in Soil Not Tilled for 2,000 Years

LONDON.—Lord Woolton, food minister, inspecting agricultural land reclaimed for wartime food production, recently came upon oats, wheat, and potatoes prospering in soil that had not been cultivated for almost 2,000 years. He was told the land had not been cultivated since the days the Romans moved through the district.

This Man Gets His Head

Stuck Between Houses

MILWAUKEE.—The space between the houses at Nos. 335 and 337 North Jackson street is not quite equal to the width of Tony Pizino's head.

Tony knows—he tried to traverse the space and got stuck.

Firemen chopped away part of the porch at 335 to free him.

This Cadet Gives One Penny to Uncle Sam

IOWA CITY, IOWA.—A cadet stationed at the navy training school here wasn't going to miss out on something for nothing when he bought a post card.

The post office reported the cadet had purchased a one-cent government post card, crossed out the printed stamp, and wrote "free" on the card.

Postwoman Finds Task Is No Cinch

But Is All Right for Woman in Wartime.

VICTORIA, B. C.—Yes, folks, the job of postman is all right for a woman in wartime but high-heeled shoes are neither standard nor comfortable equipment.

This is the view of Mrs. Florence Blanchard, British Columbia's first woman mail carrier, who says she enjoys the work and hopes to be placed on the permanent staff in due course. An attractive woman in her 30s, she stands about five feet, seven inches; weighs 140 pounds, has gray eyes and brown hair. Her postman's cap becomes her.

"I always liked walking and meeting people," she says. "I wore high-heeled shoes and blistered my feet the first day, however. The second day I put on flat-heeled shoes with crepe soles and found it much easier."

Mrs. Blanchard admitted the first 10 days were pretty hard, with two bundles of magazines and a bag of letters a common load on her route. It got better as she went along. She was bantered by the men but the women said they were proud of her and "made it pleasant going." She had invitations to stop for tea but had to express her regrets and keep on. She encountered only one dog that snapped at her.

Born in England, Florence Blanchard was brought to Canada when she was three years old and lived in Winnipeg for 12 years. Her husband, a shell-shocked veteran from the first great war, died some months ago and she has a 17-year-old son graduating from high school this year. She has two brothers serving in the present war.

His Grenades All Gone, Major's Rocks Rout Japs

MARINE HEADQUARTERS, SOLOMON ISLANDS.—There are many reasons why the Japanese failed to recapture the Solomons in a determined 48-hour assault by land, sea and air that started at sundown on September 12, but here is one instance of bravery, coolness and fast thinking that explains some of the "whys."

Maj. Kenneth D. Bailey of Danville, Ill., whose unit ran out of hand grenades while in a front line position and had nothing left with which to blast the enemy from a clump of bushes, picked up a handful of rocks and pitched them into the bushes.

The frightened Japanese—believing they were being attacked with delayed action shells—ran out in the open, where the marines mowed them down.

Bailey, who suffered a leg wound August 7, twice was shot through the helmet, the bullets grazing his head. He killed the Jap who fired the shots from a distance of eight feet in the darkness.

Cadet Bales Out; Causes 'Parachute Spy' Scare

NEWBURGH, N. Y.—A parachutist spy scare near West Point was cleared up by telephone after witnesses reported that a man leaped from a plane.

The report was corroborated by the public relations office at Stewart Field, the academy's training school.

McNeil didn't waste a moment. He followed orders and bailed out.

Both of These Ladies

Lose Battle of Glares

WILLIAMSPORT, PA.—Patience hath its reward—so the saying goes—but you can't convince two women who went dollar-day shopping.

Out of the crowd at the shoe counter they limped—each holding the mate of a pair of shoes.

Neither would give up her share of the bargain and both sat down to wait—and glare at each other.

Four hours later they were still sitting—and glaring. The manager came to the counter, took the shoes off sale and replaced the regular price tag.

Tiny Mistake in Names

Causes Some Confusion

CAMP LEE, VA.—A stenographic duty roster at camp headquarters caused confusion when it read: "Good Sadie Lee substituting for Long Ruth."

The missing punctuation was supplied and then it was found that Sadie Lee Good had taken over the Saturday afternoon duties of Ruth Long.

"Of all the thousands of newspapers and magazines read and clipped at Burrelle's the readers enjoy the Antioch News because it contains so many interesting items and is so easy to read," writes Burrelle's Press Clipping Bureau of New York City. . . . Burrelle's conducts one of the most unusual businesses in the world. It was started in 1888 at the time of the Great Blizzard in New York City. Clippings were marked on the U. S. S. battleship Maine being blown up in Havana harbor; the assassination of President McKinley; the first successful airplane flight by the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk; and the San Francisco earthquake. When the steamship Titanic was sunk in 1912, Burrelle's furnished the clippings. During World War I press clippings were marked on General Foch and General Pershing.

Mrs. Olive Reading writes from Maxwell, California— "Enclosed $1.50 for the Antioch News for the next year. I seem to be lost without the paper. I have been correspondent for the 'Colusa Sun' for over 26 years so know papers and their set up fairly well."

We had several thousand pheasant hunters here in Maxwell over last week-end from the San Francisco bay cities. Best Regards."

Save your old socks, gals, and watch the local paper for places of hosiery collection. No one will be paid for the old stockings; it is entirely a voluntary salvage. In case you don't know, through a very new process, the old silk and nylon threads from hose can now be converted into articles useful to the war effort. Silk will be reweaved into powder bags and from there on it's a military secret. . . .

Christmas Seal Sale Opens Monday

TB Association Mails 26,000 Letters; Mrs. Barney Trieger, Local Chm.

The 36th annual Christmas Seal Sale will open Monday, November 23. Your Lake County Tuberculosis Association has mailed over 26,000 letters to its friends in Lake County. This promises, again, to be the largest Christmas Seal Sale in the history of the organization, according to Miss Orpha White, executive secretary. Our citizens realize the necessity of keeping our people at home healthy that we may give better support to our battle front, the secretary said. Mrs. Austin H. Niblack of Lake Forest has been appointed by the Executive committee of the Association as Seal Sale Chairman. In speaking of the value of the Christmas Seal Sale, Mrs. Niblack says: "History must not repeat itself in Lake County. Statistics show that tuberculosis increases during war. We on the home front must work even more diligently to keep the health standards in our community. Our Association has added another nurse to its staff to meet additional demands for its service."

"We should consider another possibility which may be detrimental to the success of this year's Seal Sale. Our ranks at home are thinned, many are fighting our battles in the front lines. Some of us may be called upon to double our efforts on the home front. Our plea for contributions to our Lake County Tuberculosis Association cannot be too strong this year."

Much of the preparation of the mail was done by volunteers. Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, the Waukegan Township High School and the Y-tri Club of the Waukegan YAVCA gave valuable assistance. Members of the 8 and 40, Salon No. 191, assisted by the Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion stuffed the envelopes for the fourth consecutive year. This has become a yearly project of these two organizations.

Board members and their assistants will see to placing posters in their communities, and where possible, booths will be opened prior to Christmas giving those who did not receive Seals in the mail, an opportunity of obtaining Seals for their Holiday mail. The user of Christmas Seals demonstrates his interest in tuberculosis problems in his community.

The Seal Sale Chairman for Antioch area this year is Mrs. Barney Trieger, board member.

WE'VE PUT ON OUR WAR PAINT FOR THE DURATION

No, we don't mean camouflage. We're talking about the ceiling prices you find displayed throughout Antioch stores these days. All those signs and placards show that we are in this war, too—all the way.

Every ceiling price is your guarantee that Antioch is on the firing line in the nation's battle against rising prices.

You can't fight tanks with touring cars and you can't down a Stuka with a golf ball. That's why America has converted its production to war.

You can't fight—and win—a war with rapidly rising prices. You can't win on the battlefield while you're losing on the "home front."

That's why we are for Price Control. It's a guarantee that we're going to stay in business—whether that business is building a strong, secure "home front"—or forging the tools of Victory for the fighting front. And it's your guarantee, too, that prices are not going to climb—that you're going to find the same high quality at the same fair price.

Yes, those ceiling prices displayed so plainly are our battle flags in the struggle against inflation. They are your assurance that we are doing business—not as usual—but as it should be done for the protection of the consumer in time of war.

Service to the consumer has been our watchword in war and peace. We may have put a ceiling on our prices, but remember there will never be a ceiling on our determination to serve the community in a manner above and beyond the line of duty.

Here are some tips on cleaning your lamp shades...to make them look new and bright

American housewives, restricted by scarcities and more interested in putting extra cash into War Bonds, are making odd things about the house do double duty. There was a time when a dirty lamp shade meant a trip to the store for a new one, but now the picture is changed. Modern American housewives now look for a way to repair and renew the nice things they have, to keep their homes bright and shining at minimum expense.

One direct way to a bright, cozy home is to have clean lamp shades. Read these easy rules on cleaning them up safely, as recommended by our Home Lighting Advisors.

FIRST: Most fabric shades which are sewed are washable. Shades which are glued on, painted or made with materials that shrink when wet are not washable. Shades which are held with glue can be dry cleaned.

SECOND: Before washing, remove all loose dust with a soft brush, and tie a cord on the wire at the top long enough for hanging the shade. Then make a sudsy solution of warm water and completely dissolved mild soap flakes. If the top or bottom is especially soiled, dip a soft brush in the water and brush lightly. Then dip the entire shade up and down in the soapy solution a number of times.

THIRD: After removing shade from soapy water, immediately rinse thoroughly in clear warm water (which has been prepared beforehand) by dipping up and down. Large tubs such as basement laundry tubs or bathtubs are ideal for shade washing.

FOURTH: Dry by hanging shade from clothes line by means of cord. Fast drying is essential to prevent the metal frame from rusting. Do not hang in sunshine or near artificial heat. Wind blowing through the shade will dry it quickly and evenly.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

An Army motor trailer looks much like any other automobile trailer which may be seen on the highways or in the tourist's camps. The Army's trailers are used as traveling hospitals, dental clinics and testing laboratories.

These mobile surgical or dental units are hauled to their destination and the trucks released for other purposes. They cost from $1,200 to $3,000 and weigh from 1½ to 3½ tons. You can help pay for them . . . help keep our Army fit. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. You can join the Ten Percent Club through the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy Bonds regularly through the nearest bank or postoffice.

News of the Boys in Service

History Repeats

Looking over our old files we found a published letter dated Feb. 14, 1919 from James Waters to his mother. The letter was written from Luxembourg and may well express thoughts of our boys now in service on foreign soil. Here are a few excerpts:
"Dear Mother: This being Valentine's day and not having such a thing as valentines I will try and write a letter if the gang will keep still long enough. There are two or three card games going on which will last until morning and a bird is hammering on the piano. We always have a piano every place we go, if we can't buy one we 'souvernir' it."
"Red" Waters as he was called then was marking time after the "big show" and of course was anxious to get home. He complains of the voting of the folks back home on prohibition and of others trying to do away with tobacco. He goes on to say:
"Do you know that the first time I went over the top I snatched a package of twenty cigarettes to keep my nerves cooled. After we got used to the shells breaking over our heads it wasn't so bad, but the next time we didn't know it until we were in among a bunch of Jerries and they landed a barrage down on us. Some time I'll be able to tell you all about it."
"James Waters."

Chester Runyard and Albert Sorenson dropped in to say hello. Both boys are looking fine. Chester, home on a short furlough, says that the boys in camp read the Antioch News and any other home paper, from cover to cover.

Albert still limps from injuries received several months ago, due to being hit by a car that had climbed the curbstone on to the sidewalk. He is home on a furlough from Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Charles (Chic) Rothers, S 1/c,
Groove City, Pennsylvania, arrived in Antioch several days ago for a few days furlough, visiting his sisters, Mrs. B. Osmond and Mrs. Alvin Keuhman, and his mother, Mrs. Louis Rothers, and other relatives and friends.

A full page of pictures in a Minnesota newspaper features an Antioch boy who has just completed his flight training in the U. S. Air Corps. He is Frank H. (Harry) Willett, who before volunteering for service was a United States Railway mail clerk. He is the son of Mrs. Clara Willett of Antioch. In the picture Harry is shown making his solo flight as a "Hedge Hopper," receiving instructions in class room, and being coached by his instructor just before taking off. "Hedge Hoppers" are those fast little army planes that dart into the air to spot enemy positions for the artillery. It's possible that Harry got his first experience in the air a few years ago when a group of Antioch boys were fooling around with a glider plane here.

Sailor Swims 19 Hours; Tells How He Tricked Japs

Plays Dead When Forced Off U. S. Boat in Solomons; Buddies Shot in Sea.

U. S. NAVY OPERATIONS BASE, SOLOMON ISLANDS.—Seaman Robert James Canavan, 20, former Chicago drugstore delivery boy, swam for 19 hours in the South Pacific to bring back the story of how a Japanese cruiser sank an American patrol boat and methodically machine-gunned to death all five of his shipmates.

Canavan said he escaped death only by floating in a dead-man fashion as the cruiser passed within 50 feet—so close he could see the faces of the crew and could hear a bugle blowing.

The American patrol boat had left its base the night of August 18 to search for enemy submarines off the coast of Guadalcanal, Canavan said. At dawn the crew sighted the cruiser bearing down on them from the west.

"We did not pay much attention to the ship, as we figured the cruiser was ours," Canavan said. "Five minutes later the cruiser altered its course and bore down on us."

"The closer the cruiser got, the more suspicious she looked, and when she fired a salvo at us from her forward guns we knew she was a Jap, even though she didn't fly the Rising Sun."

Tries to Dodge Foo.

"We saw we couldn't make our base, as the cruiser moved between us and the beach, so we turned around and headed for Tulagi, about 15 miles away, zigzagging at full speed in an attempt to dodge her."

Canavan said the cruiser quickly closed the gap, however, and fired its machine guns as it moved within range. The crew lay face down on the deck of the little boat and, though the machine-gun bullets splintered the planks around them, none of the crew was hit.

One by one the crew members slipped overboard. Canavan said they looked like fishnet floats strung out behind the boat.

"The Japs let loose a hail of machine-gun bullets which broke one of the spokes of the wheel and shattered the control panel. That was when I decided to leave."

The cruiser pulled alongside and for a half hour the Japanese reloaded supplies and the boat's jammed machine-guns.

After the patrol boat had been stripped, the cruiser backed away and sank it with machine-gun fire from 50 yards.

"Then they headed back toward me," Canavan said. "I thought they intended to run me down. The only chance I had was to play dead, so I spread-eagled myself and floated perfectly motionless as the ship approached."

Shout Down Buddies.

"No attempt was made to shoot me. The ship passed right by. I had a little trouble with the wash, but came up all right."

"The cruiser headed right for the rest of the patrol boat's crew, who were pretty well bunched together about a mile away. As the Japanese ship approached, she halted for about five minutes and I could hear the firing of machine-guns."

"That was the last I saw of the others. When the cruiser got under way again, they were gone."

"I had done a lot of swimming in Lake Michigan, so I knew I could make it all right," he said. "I first tried swimming for Guadalcanal, as I was in the middle of the channel, but the current was against me, so I swam to Florida Island on the other side."

"The natives I saw were all daubed with war paint and carried shields," he said. "They couldn't speak English, but they gave me coconuts and were friendly."

He spent another day on Florida and then walked around the island to a point where the channel between Florida and Tulagi was only 400 yards wide, he said. He swam across and was picked up by a native, who took him to a hospital.

King Arthur's Armor To Armor U. S. Tanks

NEW YORK.—Four "knights" in medieval armor marched to the scrap heap for Uncle Sam.

Boy Scouts carrying signs reading "We fought for King Arthur and we'll fight for Uncle Sam," were the armor, donated anonymously by an eastern museum.

Each outfit—steel plate helmets, buckles and greaves over chain mail, authentic replicas of 12th and 13th century armor—weighed approximately 60 pounds.

French Cathedral Organ Looted of Pipes for Tin

BERNE, SWITZERLAND.—Four hundred and fifty pipes of the organ in Beauvais cathedral were reported to have been stolen.

Apparently the thieves entered the cathedral during the night after having acquired duplicate keys of a side door. The value of the tin in the stolen pipes was set at 2,000,000 francs.

Beauvais is in the occupied zone, where numerous metals are being collected for the German account.

Cabbie Finds Woman Dead in Leap Is Wife

NEW YORK.—A housemaid plunged from a Park avenue apartment to her death, narrowly missing pedestrians.

Armas A. Dok, a cab driver, glanced at the body, then cried: "My wife!"

Detective Tunney said the dead woman leaped from a maid's room on the 14th floor.

Tells of Making 2 Good Fortunes

Twice Broke Harris Rises to Affluence Quickly.

NEW YORK.—Twice in the moderate span of a colorful life Jack Harris has crossed the Atlantic ocean practically broke and on each occasion he has risen to affluence in a short time.

In 1927 he arrived in London at the head of a band with little besides his maestro's baton and a double order of ambition. A few years later he was the darling of society, the prince of Wales' favorite and his bank account had increased accordingly.

Then came the blitz and Harris came back to his native United States. He reached here with $3 in his pocket in 1940. Today he owns a night club.

Harris doesn't look like a double-feature Alger hero. He is small and so genial most people miss those sharp green eyes. But other night club operators attest that his business ability is second only to his talent as violinist-maestro.

How does a man make two quick fortunes?

"You have," Harris said, "to come in on the crest of a wave. Like my first trip to London. I got there just as American jazz was sweeping the country. Almost before I knew it, the prince of Wales and half the peerage were among my fans."

"When the war broke I had $350,000, a town house, a country home and two night clubs. I spent $85,000 redecorating one of them—and it was bombed out."

That took care of one fortune—in eesrow till the war ends.

"So I got here with three crumpled singles," Harris continued. "Jimmy Walker got me a job at a club with a pick-up band. I was touched at how many society folk remembered me. After I had a following I got more and more club work until I had enough to buy a small part of La Cogna. Gradually I've acquired complete control."

Man Catches Rabbits For Profit and Thrills

WOODWARD, OKLA.—Take the profession of rabbit catching. A tough job? Not with the Conrad Duncan technique.

Duncan built a platform on the stern of his prairie-scooting automobile, installed a couple of lookouts with nets and off they go in the night flushing rabbits right and left. Duncan estimates he has shipped 15,000 Jackrabbits and cottontails to the eastern trade in the last seven years.

For an ex-parachute jumper—he used to fly out of Greensburg, Kan. in the flimsy crates of the early days—rabbit catching would seem to be pretty tame, but not at all.

"There are all kinds of sports," says he, "but find me one that has the thrills of rabbit catching."

Has Six Sons in Forces, She Tries to Be Citizen

PITTSBURGH.—Joe Kovach, 61, a coal miner of nearby Imperial, and his wife, an alien, have given six sons to Uncle Sam and a seventh will be inducted soon.

Mrs. Kovach, who is 54, has failed twice in an attempt to pass her citizenship test, because she has trouble reciting the Constitution.

"If I give another son maybe they pass me anyway," she said hopefully.

"Pass you!" exclaimed her husband. "They ought to give you the Constitution."

The six sons in service are Andy, 25; Steve, 23; Paul, 21; Mike, 27; and Ben, 20, all in the army, and George, 23, with the coast guard. Joe Jr., 27, has passed his first draft physical test.

Terrier Is 'Hearing Ear' Dog for Deaf Mistress

SANTA ROSA, CALIF.—Just as blind people have "seeing-eye" dogs that serve them for sight, Mrs. Esther Masters, totally deaf, has a "hearing-ear" dog that serves her for hearing. The dog, named Mitzie, is a two-year-old, brindled and white, pure-bred Boston terrier. When the doorbell rings, Mitzie runs to Mrs. Masters and paws her hand; when there is any noise or disturbance about the house, the dog again notifies its mistress.

He Was Probably Glad To Get Into the Army

ROCKWALL, TEXAS.—These events paved the way for Don DeKlon's order to appear for induction into the army:

His theater burned down.

His car was stolen.

Then the car was recovered—stripped of $100 worth of tires.

Regains Memory To Find She Wed Total Stranger

Entire Year Is Gone From Consciousness of a Hollywood Beauty.

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—Her second husband a total stranger, her home—even the color of her hair—foreign to her, Glory Weller Miller cannot pierce the fog of amnesia that enveloped her upon the death of her wealthy first husband nearly a year ago.

Henry Miller, a commercial photographer, says he married the attractive 25-year-old blonde model last May 1 at Las Vegas, Nev. But Detective Lieut. B. S. Diller, who took her to Miller's studio when she was brought to the detective bureau as an amnesia victim, said:

"I have never heard a woman scream as she screamed when I told her Miller was her husband." Twenty-four hours earlier Miller had reported her missing. The detective identified her from a photograph Miller left with police.

Future Undecided.

Asked if she planned to continue as Miller's wife, she said:

"I'll have to get my bearings. I can't say what I'll do. All I know is that I have absolutely no recollection of marrying this man. Last night he said he was going to stay here in the apartment, and he did—but he slept on that davenport over there."

The Millers agreed that they would "live together for a while to see how it works out."

Miller told police his wife failed to return one night from a little theater rehearsal.

To Diller she related: "All of a sudden I found myself driving along a North Hollywood street in a strange automobile. The last thing I remember was finding my husband dead."

Diller said Mrs. Miller told him her first husband—the only husband she can recall—was H. Pierce Weller, 60, retired Binghamton, N. Y., editor, who died November 4, 1941, at Atascadero, Calif. She walked into the elaborate 16-room home he had built for her and found Weller dead in a chair.

Amnesia Victim.

Diller said he was convinced Mrs. Miller was a victim of amnesia when she was brought to the station.

"I took her first to the apartment where she and Miller lived," he said. "She looked around as though she had never been there before."

"Then she saw a suitcase. She said: 'Why, that's mine. What is it doing here?' She also recognized an old coat and a dressing gown in the apartment. The funny thing was that these all were articles she'd had in Atascadero, before her first husband died."

"She looked in the mirror and said, 'That's not the color of my hair. My hair should be brown,'" Diller said.

"I can't remember ever meeting Mr. Miller or marrying him in Las Vegas," she continued. "He says he met me at the Caliente races last February."

As she talked, she recalled the existence of her diary. A later examination of the book showed Weller's death had never left her mind, for the entry of May 1, 1942, the date on which Miller says he married her, read as follows:

"Dearest Pierce: Up at 5:30. Dressed in new wedding clothes. Off at Las Vegas. Got room in hotel. Breakfast. Went to gambling places. Henry got me a corsage. Marriage license—justice of the peace, 9:30. Champagne. Took pictures. Boarded train."

Licking From Dad Saves Boy From Court's Wrath

DES MOINES, IOWA.—Jack Terrell, 15, appeared before Judge C. Edwin Moore for driving without a license.

"Does your father know about this?" asked the judge.

"Dad licked me," answered the boy.

"Good and hard?" asked the judge.

Tears welled up in the boy's eyes and he made it clear he could still feel the effects of the punishment.

"The 10-day sentence is suspended," decided Judge Moore.

Steals New Wardrobe; Leaves Dirty Clothes

PHILADELPHIA.—If clothes make the man, the thief who broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hannigan is on the road to success. While six members of the Hannigan family were asleep on the second floor he raided the third floor, stole three suits, two extra pairs of trousers, a shirt, necktie and hat. He left behind a pair of dirty dungaree trousers, an equally dirty sweatshirt, a greasy brown peaked cap and old kid gloves.

Heart Is to Starboard, But He Wins Navy O. K.

BURLINGTON, KAN.—Horace Arthur Holstrom, the husky youth who found his naval enlistment delayed when he recalled that his heart was on his right side, is definitely in. Kansas City medical examiners said that it made no difference where his heart was so long as it was in good condition.
